Drug Policy Stays Same In District

Governing Board Holds Fast; Two Alternate Programs Open

by Jack Pollard, News Editor

High School students who use narcotics or marijuana, on or off high school campuses will continue to be expelled from the district schools.

This statement came Monday night from Grossmont Union High School District Governing Board members.

The district has maintained the policy throughout the 1967-68 school year in which 70 teenage students were bounced from the district's high schools.

About 75 per cent were reinstated after being out for a semester. The policy has been in effect for about a year and a half.

Dr. Austin Sellery, District Superintendent had recommended some changes in the policy in a statement to the board in September.

He had requested that the district not act on violations off campuses and allow administrative punishment, short of expulsion in some cases.

The board heard a review of the methods used in the Anaheim School District on the way they handle narcotics violators in that school system.

The presentation was made by Stanley McClintic, Associate Superintendent, after he had visited the Anaheim district.

In that district, out of 50 cases that were subject to review, 10-15 students were referred for expulsion. These cases usually involved on-campus usage or where selling was involved.

Also, the students were more likely to have significant educational or disciplinary problems in school.

Some 25 students were referred to Continuation School for further educational opportunity. They were not placed in separate classes.

Another 10-15 students were retained in regular high school or transferred to another regular high school.

First Time Offenders
Usually they were first time off-campus violators, with few educational or disciplinary problems.

In all of the students subject to review by the board, the Anaheim committee retained jurisdiction to review the adjustment progress and to recommend a return to regular high school when appropriate.

The committee had the half-time services of a district-employed credentialed counselor for the program exclusively.

This was the main source of student and parent guidance help.

George Birch, a member of the Grossmont Board, described the present policy on narcotics offenders as "harsh" but said it was fair. "It is the same for all students, and everyone knows what the potential penalty is," he said.

Board, Students and Parents Meet
In the district, a student is given some 8 to 10 hours of time by the board in determination of the action that should be taken.

In addition, the board meets with the student and parents if such a conference is requested.

If the district is to take the same step, such as the one in Anaheim, expansion of the Continuation High School would be necessary.

A report on the development of a second Continuation High School, as part of the planning for a permanent location for the present school is in preparation by the Grossmont district.

The present Continuation school will not absorb a potential 30-50 full-time students who may become involved with narcotics in 1968-69.

The district has two intermediate steps that might be available. One is a separate educationally handicapped class that could be developed in the afternoon for some of the students.

The official assignment of the classes could be under Special education and not held against the Continuation High School limit of 300 students.

Second Plan

A second plan that could possibly be established would be a "Home Study" program under the Continuation High School.

This program would provide a one-day a week (4 hours) of classroom supervision with the student and parent responsible for the study at home during the remainder of the time.

This program could be largely absorbed in the current Continuation High School budget. The educationally handicapped class would require the hiring of teachers on a 12 pupil per teacher basis.

The increase of the expenditure budget and an equally increased claim for reimbursement in income for this program would have to come from the State.

After the decision to leave the policy as it is, the board went into session privately to consider three cases involving drugs in district schools.

Two boys and a girl at Monte Vista High School, arrested for violation on the campus were expelled by the Board. Two of the students were listed as above-average in scholastic ability.

In other action the board rejected all bids received on Sept. 20, 1968 for the purchase of two school buses and authorized a rebid set for Oct. 25, 1968 at 2 p.m.

In addition, one bidder submitted an incomplete form.

Brookside Meeting Sluggish

More than 150 persons turned out at the Spring Valley Elementary School Tuesday night to discuss with federal, state and county officials the Brookside Flood Control channel.

Supervisor Robert C. Dent, along with representatives from the Army Corps of Engineers, Robert Rhodes, representative of Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin and others meet with the residents of the Brookside area.

State highway officials told the group that nothing substantial will probably take place in additional flooding from highways that are on the planning boards for the area.

One representative told the group that even after the freeway system has been constructed that excess water would not exceed more than 2 per cent.

Supervisor Dent said, "I feel that the $70,000, which the Board of Supervisors authorized for roadside water runoff will take care of the immediate problem."

"I don't know about future flooding, but the County has bent over backwards to do everything to help the people receive the $70,000 in appropriations."

DOLLS. Mrs. Agnes Osgood (left) and Mrs. Estelle Lauer (right) are shown as they set materials aside in the making of toys for preschool children. The toys are used at the Access Area Wide Community Center on Oceanview blvd., in Logan Heights, San Diego. Both women helped in the program. Clothing, toys, quilts and other materials are needed for the program. Persons interested in either helping out, or donating materials are asked to contact Mrs. Osgood at 466-5611.

Property Owners Face Heavier Tax

Taxpayers in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will pay extra for Proposition 9 whether it passes or fails, according to the California Taxpayers' Association.

The Association has said that because of the possibility that it may pass, many panicked local government governing bodies are selling authorized bonds early and at higher interest rates than necessary.

If it does not pass, (a simple majority vote is needed), more than $5 billion in bonds already authorized by two thirds of the voters cannot be sold.

The bonding limit placed by Prop. 9, or the Watson initiative, will limit the state's bonding to 20 per cent of the assessed value of $9.6 billion based on the 1968 figures.

At the end of 1967 the state owed $4.4 billion on bonds and local governments had bonded debts of $9.7 billion. Since then many more bonds have been sold.

In the Grossmont Union High School District, a total of $6 million in bond sales had been authorized. The unsold balance is $4 million.

The Helix Irrigation District, El Cajon Annex, was authorized to sell $2,750,000. They still have $450,000 of unsold bonds.

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District has a total of $213,000 in unsold bonds. They were authorized to sell $2,900,000 by voters.

The La Presa Co., Water Dist., Imp. Dist. No. 3 was authorized to sell $925,000. They have $405,000 in unsold bonds while the Imp. Dist. No. 4 of the same company was authorized to sell $425,000. They have $75,000 remaining to be placed on the market.

Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of Cal-Tax, said, "In effect this bonding limitation will mean that it will be at least 10 years before any new bonds can be sold."

"In parts of the state it will be 20 or more years. Not only does it mean an end to construction of schools, water systems, irrigation districts, and all public buildings normally financed by bonds, it will sharply curtail the state's construction industry."

Panic Selling
Panic selling of authorized bonds has been underway throughout the state for some time and the interest rates are rising.

The Los Angeles Metropolitan Water District has called for sale of $60 million in bonds before the actual need because the bonds could not be sold later if Proposition 9 passes.

If Proposition 9 is defeated, the taxpayers who approved those bonds will pay more through higher interest rates throughout the life of those approved sale of another 50 per cent, $5,274,138,300 in bonds.

Fortunately not all local officials will panic and flood the bond market.

The authorizations may go much beyond that $5.3 billion, however, since Californian voters between Sept. 3 and Nov. 5 will vote on $3,262,740,700 in bond issue.

The California Teachers Association has shown in a chart the results of Proposition 9, if passed on figures taken from the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Loss Shown

According to the 1966-67 figures, if Prop. 9 had been shown, a total of $80,331,770 would have been collected by the school districts in revenues.

School Construction Program Is Viewed By Superintendent

High school principals of the Grossmont District heard a review of the District building program at a meeting Wednesday morning in the District Board Room.

Dr. Austin R. Sellery, superintendent, reviewed the status of the building programs in eight high schools.

Because of pressing student growth problems, projects at Helix, Santana, Mt. Miguel, and Monte Vista High Schools are nearing completion.

Projects at Grossmont, Granite Hills, El Cajon Valley, and El Capitan High Schools are presently in the planning stages.

At Helix High a new ten-room classroom building behind the present arts building will be ready for use by second semester, so double sessions there will be avoided.

At Santana a vocational education building is about 80% finished and will be ready for use second semester.

Teachers for the Santana gym are being installed and will be ready for use early in December. Landscaping and erosion control on the Santana campus are in the planning stages.

Mt. Miguel Addition
At Mt. Miguel, again to relieve crowding, a new ten-room classroom building in front of the music building will be completed for use second semester.

The library has been enlarged and remodeling of the boys' physical education facility is almost finished.

Plans for resurfacing the athletic courts at this school, because of safety factors involved, are to be submitted to the Governing Board for approval on Oct. 7. Additional parking in front of the school is to be anticipated.

Monte Vista Work
Planning at El Cajon Valley High includes new library and remodeling of science labs. At El Capitan plans are in the making to soundproof the industrial arts and music units.

Monte Vista High will be able to hold classes second semester in a new classroom building which contains seven rooms and a lecture room. Included are two biology labs and a drama classroom with a stage.

Plans to update the Grossmont High School plant are presently under way and are scheduled to be submitted to the Governing Board at its Oct. 21 meeting.

It is anticipated that the new library and science buildings at Granite Hills High will be completed by Sept. 1968 so that double sessions can be avoided. Badly needed faculty facilities will also be included.

NO ON 9: Representatives of the Lemon Grove Committee for "No" on Proposition 9 are shown as they go over plans for the campaign in which they will contact area residents to discuss the proposition with them.

Assoc.; Mrs. Joan Wittrock, president of the L.G. District Teachers Assoc.; Robert Sjogren, member of the L.G. School Board; Mrs. Peg Lemmer, vice president of the Calif. State Teachers Assoc., and Mrs. Laura Gann, president of the Palm Jr. High School PTA.

MARCHERS: Mike Bailey, a drummer with the Marching 200, who lives at 5506 Winchester street, Spring Valley, took part in Sunday's 10th anniversary celebration of the 10th Avenue terminal in San Diego. He is shown practicing for the big event with pretty Darlene Anderson, 22, of 2814 Massachusetts ave., Lemon Grove, who is the band's solo majorette.

Script For a Wallace-CIA Scenario

Anyone here for a spy-thriller scenario?

There may be an exciting one already laid out on the national scene at the presidential level.

All of it is conjectural, of course — but there is enough fat in the fire to make this hypothesis a real possibility.

It has to do with the coming assassination of former Governor George Wallace.

Who says Wallace is going to be killed? A nationally syndicated columnist reported last week that Las Vegas already has the odds established on the coming tragedy.

With the nation torn by race riots, it is not hard to believe that Wallace's life is in the balance when he stands before a white-black mixed audience. We have seen three leaders assassinated — the brothers Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King. We are therefore conditioned to accept these events as a little more possible than we would have a decade ago.

There isn't much of a scenario possibility up to here.

But let's put in some other ingredients.

After the assassination of President John Kennedy in Dallas, and the later killing of Lee Harvey Oswald, followed by the untimely death of Jack Ruby, several studies were made about the tragedy. At least two publications associated one, or more of these deaths with the Central Intelligence Agency.

The CIA had previously had a sticky finger in the Cuban Bay of Pigs fiasco. CIA involvement in the Kennedy assassination was rumored to be anywhere from stopping an investigation of the CIA itself by Kennedy, to the rumor that JFK was ready to mount a full scale war against Russia and therefore had to be done away with! There has been no proof that any of these charges could be substantiated.

So much for additional background.

Now let's weigh what Retired Air Force Chief of Staff Curtis E. LeMay said when he accepted Wallace's invitation to be the candidate for vice presidency on the American Independent Party ticket. LeMay observed that events made strange relationships — and accepted Wallace's invitation.

Now let's hypothesize and prognosticate some more.

Let's assume that the CIA has been worried about the growing support for George Wallace. CIA could properly believe that Wallace wouldn't put up with the super-spy goings-on that CIA has been involved in over the years. So, for the sake of the scenario, let's say that CIA fears that Wallace, if elected, would kill CIA. CIA, most of whose members can read, already knows that Las Vegas is laying the odds on Wallace's assassination. Therefore, reasons CIA, a reasonable amount of protection would come if it got a true-blue American on the ticket with Wallace. Then, if Wallace makes it to the Presidential chair and is bumped off, a man of high military stature will succeed him. CIA has a better sympathy with the military than it does with the politicians. LeMay would give support to CIA in a crisis!

So they talk LeMay into running for the vice presidency convincing him that he should make the sacrifice to help save the country. Hence, his "strange relationship" statement.

For the sake of his country he steps out of retirement at the urging of the head of CIA. Thus, CIA is saved!

We should also write into the script that as Wallace's popularity grows, his Secret Service protection grows.

The Secret Service is not involved in politics so it will do what it is paid to do — protect. It probably doesn't understand CIA any better than the American people do. But suppose Secret Service protects Wallace so good from the potential assassin that he lives and is elected President. CIA has an ever greater Wallace problem after the election.

If there are many who believe that CIA had a part in the Kennedy assassination, the belief could grow that CIA is capable of doing what it then must to protect its establishment.

It therefore arranges for the sudden passing of George Wallace!

Maybe you don't like this story.

Alright, then, write your own.

But don't keep overlooking the report that Las Vegas is making book on the matter — as macabre as it is. Gamblers may or may not be patriotic but they wouldn't let that interfere with good gambling logic.

FLOWER SHOW: Mrs. Floyd Swingle (left), 4680 Pomona, La Mesa and Mrs. Lowell Elson (right) are shown as they give a tough inspection on a plant that will be entered in the Grossmont Garden Club Show. The show will be held on Oct. 12-13 at the La Mesa Adult Recreation Center on University ave., La Mesa. Mrs. Swingle is president of the club, while Mrs. Elson is on the judges committee.

Congregational Church To Head UNICEF Campaign

Teen-agers, tots and collegians of Lemon Grove will join 3.5 million other young Americans this Halloween in the TRICK OR TREAT Campaign for UNICEF.

Under the auspices of The Congregational Church, Trick-or-Treaters will dress up in traditional Halloween costumes and visit homes in small, supervised groups, according to Mrs. Vi McKern, area coordinating chairman.

"Children in more than 100 countries are growing up a little healthier and a little happier because of our participation in the UNICEF program. Last Halloween, Trick or Treaters in San Diego County raised more than 7,000 of the $3 million collected throughout our country," Mrs. Mable Danalis, the San Diego County Chairman, said.

All these nickels, dimes and quarters add up. And their purchasing power for food, medicine and supplies is tremendous when they are handled by a world-wide organization.

"Coins collected by the young people of our community will actually save other children's lives," UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be identified by their official collection box: an organ and black container.

Only those carrying this carton are authorized to collect for UNICEF.

Children or groups interested in serving as UNICEF Trick or Treaters should contact Mrs. Vi McKern, 3023 Washington, 469-5777 or 233-6364.

Twenty Years of Service

Msgr. John McDonagh Retires From St. John of the Cross Church

The title of pastor emeritus has been awarded to Msgr. John W. McDonagh as he retired after more than 20 years of pastoral service at St. John of the Cross parish in Lemon Grove.

Msgr. John McDonagh

The honorary title was given to the retiring pastor in recognition of his successful efforts to promote the interests of religion in the parishes he served first as assistant pastor and then as pastor, Most Rev. Francis J. Furey said.

The Bishop named Father Patrick J. Kearney, a former assistant at St. John of the Cross, to succeed Msgr. McDonagh. Father Kearney has had charge of the Immaculate parish, Alcala Park, since August 1, 1966.

During his two-year pastorate he directed several improvements in the Alcala Park church, notably the installation of a new Altar of Repose and several mosaic embellishments.

The church serves more than 2,000 families in the Lemon Grove parish, it was reported.

The new pastor of Lemon Grove has no definite plans for the future save to "follow in the footsteps of Msgr. McDonagh who introduced me to parochial work after my ordination in March, 1953."

After his first appointment as assistant to Msgr. McDonagh, Father Kearney served terms as assistant pastor at St. Mary's, El Centro; St. Joseph's, Upland and St. John's, San Diego.

Promotion to his first pastorate at St. Anne's, Needles, followed his term of more than six years' service at St. John's. His second pastoral charge was the Immaculate.

Educated in schools of his native Ireland, Father Kearney was trained for the priesthood at St. Francis and Immaculate Heart diocesan seminaries. He was ordained by Bishop Charles F. Buddy in St. Joseph's Cathedral.

During Msgr. McDonagh's tenure of office in Lemon Grove, a church was built to accommodate 1,100 — replacing a 300 capacity one. An enlarged school for the children of the parish was also built.

The new church was completed by Christmas of 1958. It was dedicated on February 26, 1959. An addition of four large classrooms to the six already available provided accommodation for 700 children in the elementary school. Ten Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange and four lay teachers staff the school.

To these facilities Msgr. McDonagh added a new rectory, convent, hall and cafeteria to complete the parochial premises.

Two new parishes were carved from the Lemon Grove parish during the period of growth. Santa Sophia, in Spring Valley, and Holy Spirit on 55th St. were formed under Msgr. McDonagh's recommendation.

Today, three priests serve the Lemon Grove parish.

Church Women Attend Rally

Several women of Casa de Oro Baptist Church, on Monday, Sept. 30, attended the annual Area Women's Rally. It was held at the Emanuel Baptist Church in Pacific Beach.

An inspiring message was brought by Miss Helen Berg-falk, missionary of India. Following the morning registration, workshops with the different State officers were held.

A time of coffee and fellowship were also enjoyed. The meeting closed with a luncheon at Sir George's Smorgas-bord.

The annual "Rally Day" at Casa de Oro Baptist Church was Oct. 6, beginning at the Sunday School hour. It continued through the morning and evening services and all through the youth meetings.

The day closed with a time of refreshments, planned by the church hostess, Mrs. L. Paul and her assistants.

The Women's Missionary group met the evening of Oct. 8, with Mrs. Lena Anderson, reading chairman, in charge. The room was decorated to carry out the theme of "Reading."

The refreshment table also carried out the theme, with a book-shaped cake the center of attraction.

A book table displaying books from the church library was challenging, and the women were urged to take out books for their reading pleasure and profit.

A business meeting and missionary information was also part of the assembly.

Sunday Tea To Honor Artists

Mrs. John B. (Kathleen) O'Rourke and Wendell Montague, will be honored at a tea on Sunday, Oct. 13, from 2 p.m. at the Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, 8053 University, La Mesa.

The two artists have their works on display at the center and can be seen each Saturday from 1-5 p.m. until Nov. 3.

The Art Center is closed week days. The public is invited to attend the tea, to meet the artists and to view their works.

Grove Gets Clean Up

Lemon Grove's annual clean-up campaign "was 95% effective," Chamber President Shughrue said yesterday.

"Those few failing to-ist-fei on the act had another opportunity Saturday," he said.

Three truck loads of trash were carried to the dump Saturday and a light sprinkled Monday further brightened the area.

State Office

California PTA membership chairman Mrs. August Johnson, of Carmel, has invited the 4871 PTAs in the state to join in the annual membership enrollment, using the theme, "Time to Re-Member."

Membership is open to all who want to work for children and youth. There are no barriers of color, creed, occupation, or income. The PTA is an educational organization dedicated to promoting the welfare of children through home, school, church, and community.

It welcomes all who want to learn more about children and act on their behalf.

Mrs. Irving I. Hendryson, president of the National PTA, in designating October as PTA Membership Enrollment Month, said, "In the PTA we find the comfort of knowing we are not alone in our fears and worries and hopes as parents and teachers."

We learn better to help our children at home and in school. We put our ideas, talents, skills, and energies together with those of others to accomplish for children and youth what none of us could accomplish alone.

In our local PTA we count as individuals, and we are counted upon to do our part and do our best to improve our school and community.

As members of a state PTA and the National PTA we are part of a powerful movement to assure a decent life for all American children everywhere."

Mrs. Henry Roinecke, ways and means chairman, estimated that one third of the candy was sold at Sat., the opening day of the sale.

Profits from the candy sale will go towards the oncoming purchase of new uniforms and supplemental instruments. The band and orchestra are directed by Harry Weisgerber, head of the instrumental music department at Lemon Grove Junior High.

Palm Executive Board

Opposes Proposition 9

The Palm PTA Executive Board today announced that the organization has gone on record in opposition to Proposition 9, the Watson Tax Trap Initiative on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Proposition 9 drastically cuts property tax revenues but the replacement tax revenues necessary to keep schools and local government services in operation would more than offset property tax savings to individual homeowners.

Only a few—very large commercial property owner—chiefly real estate speculators would benefit by Proposition 9, by shifting a large portion of their proper share of the tax burden to the general public, the group said.

Palm Junior High

Mrs. Edith Canfield will speak Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Palm Junior High PTA. She will bring with her the film "One Quarter Million Teenagers". The subject to be discussed is Venereal Disease as an increasing problem in teenagers.

FOR BONDS TO PROVIDE STATE COLLEGE, UNIVERSITY AND URBAN SCHOOL FACILITIES. (This act provides for a bond issue of two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000).)

AGAINST BONDS TO PROVIDE STATE COLLEGE, UNIVERSITY AND URBAN SCHOOL FACILITIES. (This act provides for a bond issue of two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000).)

THIS newspaper presents to its readers, in a five part series, both the pros and cons, for Propositions 1-9 that will be on the ballot in the Nov. 5 general elections.

This presentation does not reflect the opinions of this publication nor is it intended to direct the voter to cast his or her ballot in any particular direction.

The Pros and Cons are a reproduction of part of those that have been compiled by George H. Murphy, Legislative Counsel, and certified as correct by Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State.

School Construction Bonds

Pro

A "Yes" vote on this measure is a vote to authorize the issuance and sale of state bonds to provide funds not in excess of $200,000,000 for major building construction at the Univ. of Calif. and Calif. State Colleges, along with funds for reconstruction and replacement of substandard buildings and materials.

Prop. 3 is vital to every family in Calif. It provides $200 million for the continued growth of higher education in this state and $50 million for badly needed school construction in the urban areas.

The Univ. of Calif.'s nine campuses and the Calif. State Colleges' eighteen campuses increase by 14,000 students annually.

We must either provide additional classrooms and laboratories or shut the door to some very able students by more restrictive admissions policies.

This is another step toward the principle of "pay-as-you-go." Minimum needs at present can be met by combining bonds issue money, general fund money and tidelands oil revenue.

The bond issue also establishes the Urban School Construction Aid Law of 1968 which provides building funds as loans and grants to replace dilapidated, run-down elementary and high school buildings constructed prior to 1947.

The bond issue will help to improve many schools in the ghetto area of our cities . . . thus providing greater education opportunities for minority and economically disadvantaged children.

Your "Yes" vote will provide the improved educational opportunity for youngsters in our state.

This presentation was made by Albert S. Rodda, State Senator from Sacramento County; William T. Bagley, Assemblyman from Lompoc.

Con

A "No" vote is a vote to refuse to authorize the issuance and sale of $250 million of bonds.

Prop. 3 has four substantial reasons for refusing at this time to approve this additional debt for the state. They are as follows.

1. The state now has an outstanding and authorized bonded indebtedness of $6 billion, 279 million. This has resulted in a near saturation of the bond market and is creating problems in marketing the State's bonds.

2. The minimum interest cost for this bond issue would be $163,125,000. It could be much higher. Each year this interest cost would add $16,500,000 to the annual appropriation by the State for interest payments on its outstanding indebtedness.

3. Because of a glutted bond market and a huge backlog of authorized but unsold bonds the State could not hope to sell these bonds for over two years.

4. The money cannot be used even if it was available for more than two years. In 1966 the voters authorized $275 million for school construction bonds . . . none of which have been sold yet.

The last of a $260 million authorization for higher education which the voters approved in 1964 was just sold in May of 1968.

The desired purpose for this bond issue can safely wait for at least another two years, when the market will be more receptive and the cost to the taxpayer will not be so high.

This presentation was made by John L. Harner, State Senator.

Personal Income Tax Change

Pro

A "Yes" vote on this measure is a vote to authorize the Legislature to adopt, by reference, future amendments to federal laws for the purpose of reporting and collecting Calif. personal income taxes.

At last! Here is a proposal to make our state income tax easier to figure out.

A yes vote on this proposition will allow the Legislature to conform state income tax laws as much as practical to federal income tax laws.

This would mean we could use the calculations made for federal tax purposes in filling out our state tax forms.

There is no reason why the burden of taxation should be made even greater by requiring Calif. taxpayers to go through the time consuming process of having to prepare and compute a complicated state tax form totally different from the federal form.

We would not accept the higher federal tax rates. In fact, this proposal specifically prohibits an increase in our tax rates without a change in the law.

We simply say that the present federal method of computing income is acceptable to us and should be incorporated in our state law.

A number of states have already adopted this system, and most of our professional, legal and accounting societies are supporting this proposal.

We urge your Yes vote for simplicity and economy.

This presentation was made by Senators Milton Marks of San Francisco and Senator James R. Mills of San Diego along with Assemblyman James A. Hayes.

Con

A "No" vote on this proposition is a vote to deny the Legislature the authority to adopt future amendments to federal laws for the purpose of reporting and collecting State personal income taxes.

Calif. voters should vote No on Prop. 4 for the following reasons:

Prop. 4 benefits the rich at the expense of the middle and lower income families.

Under the guise of conformity, federal exemptions, which are much lower than the State's could easily be adopted resulting in a major downward shift of the tax burden from the wealthy to the middle and lower income groups.

In addition, Proposition 4 would mean an automatic tax windfall of up to $100 for persons owning stock.

This measure also discriminates against veterans and military personnel.

It would remove the Calif. tax law which now provides that the first $1,000 of military pay (active, reserve and retired persons) is exempt from the state income tax.

All of these citizens would lose that benefit if Calif. conforms to the federal tax laws. Most of the responsibility of the state government.

A no vote on Proposition 4 will protect the spendable wages of the lower income families living and working in this state.

It will also assure us that our tax laws will be made by our own legislators, not by the elected representatives from other states.

This presentation was made by Richard J. Dolving, State Senator of the 12th Senate District and John J. Miller, Assemblyman of the 17th Assembly District.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Veracruz is a quiet coastal town on the Gulf of Mexico. It is the capital of the state of Veracruz. Much charm and color of the Cortes era remain there today. An old Spanish style fortress stretches out into the warm gulf waters. The remains of the first Spanish church to appear in this continent can still be seen in the "Ciudad vieja" (old city).

Large cargo and passenger vessels from all parts of the world park in the piers near the landing spots where earlier Spanish Galleons brought settlers to these shores over two hundred years ago.

More recently, Veracruz has become known as the home of the Bamba, a lively musical piece that starts heels to clicking. This music is usually played to the accompaniment of a harp. Any Veracruzano would vow that these musical tones are as close to heavenly music as we have here on earth.

Today the streets of Veracruz are filled with "Jarochos" (hah-ROH-chohs), a nickname given to the natives of the state. Their white shirts, white shoes, and white socks, flicker in the tropical sun as refrains for "It is a port."

FAST ACTION: The San Diego Gulls, who will face the Denver Spurs tomorrow night in the Western Hockey action League, will provide plenty of quick, hard hitting action as shown in the photo this season at the San Diego Sports Arena.

The Gulls will open play in San Diego on Saturday in a 8:30 p.m. clash with the Spurs. General Manager-Coach Max McNab said that the team has improved over last season's third place finish, and is fully aware that the rest of the league has gotten tougher also.

Undefeated Helix, Monte Vista Lock Horns

Cross Country Battle Today

by Tom Warren

The Helix High School varsity cross country men put their 3-0 record on the line today as they face Monte Vista on the Highland course.

The Monarchs are the Highlanders' foremost competition this year, and the meet could decide the league championship.

The Scots will be relying on strong running from sophomore Ed Mendoza to counter that of Monarch Dave Carter, who has been the top man in Monte Vista's previous efforts. Highland mentor Mike Muirhead gives the Scots a good chance to upset the favored Monarchs, but added that to do so they would have to "place the top five men around 9:50," something they have yet to accomplish so far.

"We're hoping we can capture second, third, sixth, seventh, and eighth," said the coach. With that Helix would be guaranteed at least a three point victory.

The Monarchs are coming off a 19-43 triumph over El Cajon, returning league champs, and a perfect 15-50 victory over Sweetwater the week before, and hope to regain the title they lost to El Cajon last year.

Crush Santana

Helix crushed Santana last Friday by a score of 21-40. The meet was run on the strenuous two-mile Sultan course.

It was the third win in as many tries for the Scots, with Mendoza again leading the way. The sophomore finished with a time of 10:31, and was well ahead of the pack.

Also placing high for Helix were Daryl Simmons (second), Curt Smith (fifth), Dennis Rodgers (sixth), and Lee Mal-sack (seventh). They had times of 10:40, 10:57, 11:00, and 11:05 respectively.

Coach Fairhead called the team's performance "very good" and pointed out the "good grouping they had counted on." The JV's turned in an excellent score also, dropping the Sultans 15-49.

The Scots swept the first five places in their race.

Monarchs Scalped By Braves, 13-6

by Scott McLaughlin

In their first league game of the season, the Monte Vista Monarchs fell to the El Cajon Braves, 13-6, last Friday at Granite Hills.

The Braves drew first blood as Brad McRoberts threw a 17-yard pass to Dick Shaffer with 1:22 left in the first period. The PAT failed, making it 6-0, El Cajon.

El Cajon then was handed a touchdown as Mike Nush fumbled and Don Roberts picked up the ball and ran 25 yards for the score. The point after was good with the score at the half being 13-0.

Monte Vista did not score until the fourth quarter when Dan Duncan went over from the one with 6:53 minutes left.

The Monarchs got another drive going but failed to score when time ran out with Monte Vista deep in Brave territory.

Vince Campoli was the workhorse for the Monarch offense. Dan Duncan came off the bench in the second half to add to their defense Dennis Weikel was another standout on defense.

Monte Vista will travel to Helix High Friday night in an attempt to get on the winning score board. The clash will tip off at 8 p.m.

The Junior Varsity team will also play at Helix Friday in a 3 p.m. duel. The freshman team will play Helix at Monte

Vista at the same time.

Grossmont JC Plays Home Opener Saturday Night

The Grossmont College football team will play their first home game of the season Saturday night, Oct. 12, in their opening league game with Palomar College at Valley Stadium.

Max Wiebee's Comets, who are ranked eleventh nationally, probably have one of the best defensive teams in the area.

Palomar has given up only eight points in their first two games which were with Mira Costa and Glendale (Arizona) Colleges who they beat 15-8 and 12-0 respectively. The Comets will also have eighteen returning lettermen.

Palomar's running attack will be led by Merle Gathers, and their passing attack will be led by quarterback Steve Garten, and receivers Tim Titus and Jack Ashby.

At Ventura this past Saturday night the Griffins were beaten 45-3 by a much stronger and bigger Pirate team. Ventura was the first to score with a 29 yard run by Pat Fitzsimmons. Next, the Griffins scored for their one and only time on a 34 yard field goal by Donald McWhorter.

After the field goal by McWhorter the Pirates dominated the game to the end. Grossmont now holds a 0-20 record.

Defensive coach Joe Cazimero said, "I'm proud of the defense. It was a total team effort that allowed us the shut-out."

In other action the Los Toros Colts downed the Chula Vista Vikings in junior pee wee action. Robert Pace scored two touchdowns in the win.

The Middlets will face East San Diego at the ESD field in a 10 a.m. match, while the Colts take on Grossmont at the Mt. Miguel practice field.

Action Becomes Brutal As Cars Pile Up At El Cajon Racetrack

The action has become brutal at Cajon Speedway as the season end draws near. Car after car was put into the wall in a rugged battle for positions in the main event last week.

This Saturday night will be another grueling task as Russ Bullen of Chula Vista will be going after his fourth straight win in super stock racing. Action will tip off at 8 p.m.

Bullen is currently in sixth place in track standings. He is behind Jim Hitt of Lemon Grove. Bullen has a 3,416 point total while Hitt has scored 3,578 points.

Both men have been coming on strong in the last part of the season. They have a good chance of moving up in league positions, with three races left in season action.

Track leader, Tex Kimbrell of Imperial Beach is still holding on to a strong lead in the track standings. He has a 5,030 point score to put him out in the championship race.

Kimbrell is the 1967 track champion. The closest driver to him is Bulky Peralta of El Cajon, who is in second place with a 4,064 point score.

Bullen was track champ in 1964 and again in 1966. He could move into 4th place in the standings if his top notch driving continues.

A special program will be added to the super stock and limited stock race, as area news men get their hands in the pie.

Past champions Ernie Meyers of KOGO, Clyde Martin from KCBQ and 1968 champ Jack Rabel of KSON will be moving into action.

Top seeded in the race will be Mike Smith of KCST. He crashed his car last year. Bruce Pedersen of the Sentinel will also be in the action.

Grid Iron Collision Runs Helix, Monte Vista High On Same Track

by Don Kiener

The Helix varsity football squad will take on the Monte Vista Monarchs tonight at 8 p.m. on the Highland gridiron.

The Monarchs, as well as the Highlanders, face a must-win situation to keep in the thick of the Grossmont title race, as both teams were defeated in their first league game.

Monte Vista boasts 10 returning lettermen, and are thus far 0-2 for the season.

In their last outing, Friday night, the Scots were defeated by Santana 13-12 as Helix lost two key players, quarterback Jim Erault and halfback Gene Rhoads.

Erault injured his knee while attempting to bootleg around left end for an extra point, and will be out of action for two to three weeks.

Rhoads, the Scots leading ground gainer, was sidelined on the first play from scrimmage with a broken hand, and will be lost for the remainder of the season.

"Injuries have hurt us," said Scottie mentor Al Hammer. "Now, we have to strive for consistency and timing, which we have lacked."

Helix has lost a total of 7 starters due to injuries.

Early Lead

Santana took the lead early in the first quarter, but Helix came back and closed the difference to one point, 7-6, on a five yard plunge by fullback Milan Young.

The Highlanders went ahead, 12-7, on a one yard smash by Mike Stein.

Two consecutive passes from Erault to Butch Paddock, and an intercepted pass by Steve Cover set up the score. The extra point failed when Erault was injured.

Earlier in the quarter the Scots had the ball on the Sultan one yard line set up by a 31 yard pass from Erault to Jim Dillahun, but on the next play the fumbled ball went to Santana. On another occasion Helix was threatening, but an alert Sultan secondary picked off an under thrown Erault pass.

Santana capitalized on a Helix fumble for the winning touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

Helix then intercepted a Santana pass, but fumbled to the Scots, who in turn fumbled back to Helix, who fumbled it right back to Santana ending the game.

The Highlanders out-passed the Sultans with six completions in 15 attempts for 174 yards, while Santana completed 11 in 15 attempts for 87 yards.

The Scotties had four passes intercepted compared to two for Santana.

Leading Ground Gainer

Helix out rushed the Sultans 94 yards to 54 yards. The leading ground gainers for each team were Young of Helix with 54 yards, and Hatfield with 45 yards for Santana.

The Scots lead in total yardage 268 to 141, but wound up behind Santana in first downs 10 to 9.

Although the Highlanders lead in these departments, they fumbled the ball away 5 times compared to two times for the Sultans. This may have been the deciding factor.

Despite these statistics Santana ran 65 plays where Helix ran only 50. Santana played ball control football throughout the second half allowing the Highlanders only 7 plays the entire fourth quarter.

An individual standout was junior, Butch Paddock, who won a starting job at split end. It was the first game in which he wore a Helix uniform.

MV Harriers Dump Rival Braves, 19-43

The Monte Vista cross country team won their first league meet of the season by trouncing their arch-rival El Cajon, 19-43 Friday.

Dave Carter of Monte Vista won with a time of 9:43.6. El Cajon's Don Thomas ran a great final mile only to lose to Carter by 3½ seconds.

Joe Mears, Neil Wilson, and Tom Lux finished 3, 4, and 5 respectively as the Monarchs tried to run as a team rather than individuals.

They believe that this is what they must do to beat Helix this Friday. Helix will be the Monarchs' closest rival for the league crown.

The winner of the El Cajon-Monte Vista meet in the last five years has gone on to win the league crown. The Monarchs are hoping to keep the tradition in tact.

Grossmont Rolls Over Mt. Miguel Matadors, 20-0, Win Still To Come

by John Nicholson

Mount Miguel's fumbling High School football team went through a tough ordeal last Friday night as the Grossmont Foothillers rolled over them 20-0.

The Matadors, who took the opening kickoff moved down to the Foothiller 38-yard line, only to lose the ball as the greasy fingered Matadors fumbled.

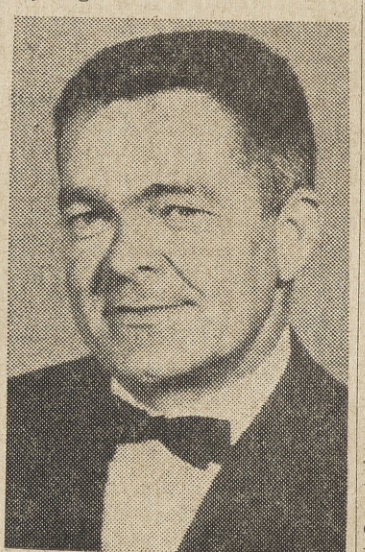

The Grossmont offensive unit then proceeded to march down the field on the passing of Proctor and the strength of Dennis Sutton's rushing.

With a minute and 45 seconds left in the first quarter Proctor took the ball in from the four-yard stripe for the six-pointer. After Sutton's extra point kick, the score stood at 7-0.

The Matadors took the kickoff and moved well again on Mike Tyler's pinpoint passing and more of Buckner's aggressive rushing.

Dr. H. L. Janssen

Dr. Janssen, resides at 8056 Longdale rd., Lemon Grove. He said, "Throughout the history the minimal roles of the political system has been to create order in society.

"This order has always been maintained through some combination of coercion and consent. Today society has reduced the combinations.

Janssen, a member of the faculty since 1953, earned his B.A. and M.A. from the University of Oklahoma, and a Ph.D. from the Univ. of Calif.

He gave his talk as part of the College's Tuesday evening lecture series that began on Oct. 8. The series is sponsored by the Office of Extended Services and the college faculty.

sive rushing.

After picking up three first downs, and reaching the Grossmont 30, fumblytts took over again and the Miguel defensive unit was in the game again.

The Foothillers once again took advantage of the Matador miscue and turned it into six more points with 3 minutes, 10 second left in the half. Sutton made the conversion and the score moved to 14-0.

The Miguel defensive held off the able Grossmont offense until the closing minutes in the game, when the Foothillers hit for 6 more points. The kick failed.

Mt. Miguel will be going after its first win of the season, as the host Granite Hills Friday night in a game starting at 8 p.m.

Both clubs will be looking for their first win of the season. Granite Hills has a 0-2 record. They fell to El Capitan High 21-6 last week.

The only Granite Hill score came on a 55-yard run by Tim Doerr.

Goodwill Industries Urge Employment Of Handicapped

October 6-12 is National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week throughout the nation.

The Goodwill Industries of San Diego is urging Lemon Grove and Spring Valley business and industry employers to take a good look at "so called" handicapped workers when filling job openings.

"We ask employers to just give the handicapped worker a chance to show what he can do," commented Mr. Eugene Morrill, executive director of the San Diego Goodwill.

"We urge them to consider employing handicapped persons for present job vacancies, and invite them to come visit Goodwill's facilities and see for themselves just how well trained and competent our workers are."

"Our handicapped people are so well-trained in their respective fields, that we feel they can compete with and often exceed the performance of non-handicapped workers," he added.

"We only ask that local business and industry take into consideration the 'ability' not the 'disability' of the skilled and deserving handicapped persons who could fill jobs in this community.

"What is a handicap in one job, of course, may not be a handicap at all in another job," Morrill explained. "A disability requiring confinement to a wheelchair, for example, does not necessarily impair ability to put the talent of one's hands or one's mind

This newspaper presents this question and answer column about the Social Security program as a public service to our readers.

The questions are those most frequently asked about Social Security. The answers are provided by Sumio Oto, El Cajon Social Security District Manager.

Q. My mother is 83 years old and can no longer care for her own personal needs. We are considering placing her in a nursing home. If the nursing home participates in the Medicare program, will Medicare help pay the bill?

A. No. From your question, it appears that your mother does not need medical and professional nursing care, but simply care to meet her every day personal needs. Medicare does not pay for this kind of care.

Q. Is it true that a person receiving social security benefits can earn more money this year and still receive all of his social security checks?

A. Yes. This is true. Effective January 1, 1968, the new law raises from $1,500 to $1,680 the amount of earnings a beneficiary may have this year without loss of benefits.

Q. Do the 1967 Social Security Amendments also change the monthly amount I can earn without losing my benefit for that month?

A. Yes. Regardless of the total amount you earn this year, no benefits will be withheld for any month in which you neither earn over $140 in wages nor perform substantial services as a self-employed person.

School teachers who did not work in July or August this year are examples of beneficiaries who could receive benefits for those months.

Q. May hospitals that participate in Medicare restrict admissions to people of a certain race or religion?

A. No. A participating hospital, or other institution, must agree to provide services without regard to race, color or creed in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Social Security beneficiaries within the El Cajon service area, which includes Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, who need to report changes of address, or other events that affect the payment of their monthly benefits, may now do so through the social security office in El Cajon, Sumio Oto, District Manager, said.

Reports may be made by mail, telephone, or by personal visit.

Oto said that up to now beneficiaries had been reporting these events on postcard forms to various social security record centers throughout the country.

The change in reporting methods is designed to reduce the time needed to change addresses and process other information having an effect on payment of monthly benefits, Oto said.

The change is made possible by the increased capacity of social security district offices to transmit the information over high-speed communications circuits to record offices.

In addition, to address changes, Oto said that some of the events that may affect receipt of monthly social security checks include employment, marriage, or remarriage, divorce, death, and change in school attendance for students over 18.

The El Cajon Social Security Office is located at 570 North Second Street in El Cajon. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. The telephone number is 442-0851.

Ayers Flunks In Cleaver Confrontation

Bill Ayers, Republican candidate for Assembly in the 77th District, attempted to prevail upon Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver not to speak Friday night at the U.C.S.D. gymnasium — but he was unsuccessful.

He accosted Cleaver at the gym entrance but he was bodily removed from Cleaver's path by uniformed campus police and escorted to the street.

Earlier, Ayers said he had asked U.C.S.D. President William McGill to prevent Cleaver from speaking on campus.

"Nothing has been done to prevent racists and criminals from appearing on our campuses. The Legislature is ineffective in the matter."

"I asked both McGill and Cleaver to cancel the speech because I am concerned both as a parent and as a Californian," Ayers said.

Ambulance Crews Kept Busy Weekly

by Tommy Thomas

It has been interesting to note (but not too pleasant) that the Spring Valley ambulance crews transport from one to six or more persons to the hospital each week as the result of automobile accidents in this area.

Many of these accidents (along with the motorcycle accidents) have caused serious consequences to the victims.

I have seen several instances where a person needed a brace around his or her neck for some time as the result of whiplash in the less serious accidents, but nevertheless painful ones.

A recent issue of Women's Medical News Service had some interesting reading on the subject of whiplash, under the title "Whiplash Injury: Brain Damage" . . . and date-lined Bethesda, Md.;

Whiplash injury — a common cause of severe pain in the neck — may cause even more serious trouble. Scientists at the National Institute of Neurological Disease and Blindness warn that whiplash injury may sometimes cause brain concussion and bleeding.

Any accident that causes violent flinging of the head front to back, back to front, or to the side, may cause a whiplash injury.

If the injury is relatively minor the ligaments supporting the neck may be overstretched.

Congratulations to Jennie Arne Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Warner of 10341 Toledo st., Spring Valley. She has just been pledged the Delta Delta Delta sorority at the University of the Pacific

DOUBLE DOME SKYLIGHT FITS ANY ROOF STYLE

Unlike a more expensive dormer, this clear plastic skylight can be installed in almost any type of building without detracting from the architectural style. The skylight is designed for lighting, ventilating and insulating rooms which have limited wall space and light, according to manufacturer Ventarama Skylight Corp. of Port Washington, N.P. The weatherproof base is a special Georgia-Pacific "high density" hard surfaced plywood.

The result is a leak-proof skylight that is insulated and provides both light and ventilation. It can be installed easily in either new construction or remodeling at less cost than dormers.

Above the plywood base, the compact assembly has a clear acrylic-plastic double dome, a screen and copper flashing. Inner and outer bubbles of the dome control heat transmission and cold radiation.

Standard skylight sizes range from 22x30 inches to 45-1/2 x 35-1/2 inches and are adaptable to either flat or pitched roofs. The skylight can be opened either by power or manually for easy ventilation.

Hour's Work With New Thin Door Panels Transforms A Room From Mediocre To Chic

Modern tastes and decorating trends have all but obsoleted the plain flush door standing alone as an object of architectural delight.

Today it must be pampered with paint, paper or panels — integrated in some fashion with the adjacent walls, surrounding room, and perhaps even the entire floor or building. In short, the plain lacquered or varnished wood flush door is out.

Papering and painting a door have been standard remedies for some time. But until January of this new year in the "Age of the Bright, Bold Look," attempts to panel an existing door brought mostly frustration — and seldom, if ever, really satisfactory results.

The reason lay in the fact that acceptable decorator quality paneling was manufactured only in quarter-inch thickness. Add that much thickness to a door and you take on a plague of problems: The door becomes unsightly, bulky; the door stops (those strips of wood inside the door jamb against which the door closes) must be moved too far to get by without trimming them; and the hinges must be re-set.

Now, however, new extra-thin plywood panels with top quality prefinishing make practical the paneling of a door. What's more, these new panels can be obtained to match precisely the quality wall paneling also manufactured by the General Plywood Corporation, Louisville, Ky. Both wall and door paneling come in many wood species and colors and in bright pastel decorator shades.

Installing these panels — which come in one standard size of 2'8" by 6'8" — calls for no special tools or skills. The process encompasses just a few simple steps:

- Remove door and hardware.
- Coat panel and door with contact cement.
- Press together.
- Trim panel.
- Replace hardware and door.

The door is removed from the jamb by taking out the hinge pins. Then the two hinge halves on the door and the door knob and plates are taken off. Actually, the hinges do not have to be removed in every case — depending upon which side of the door is to be covered.

Now lay the door across a pair of saw horses or other solid supports. In this position it will serve first as a handy table for applying a coat of contact cement to the back of the 1/8-inch thin matching door panel — termed an "Eagle-Mate" by General Plywood because it matches the company's standard "Eagle" line of wall paneling.

The contact cement should be brushed on the entire back side of the "Eagle-Mate" in accordance with the instructions on the can. When covered completely, the door panel then is lifted carefully off the door and set aside to dry. Next a coat of the contact cement is brushed on the door itself.

The next operation is to place the cemented panel on to the cemented door. Simply said, but the operation requires some care because when the two contact-cemented surfaces touch, they will adhere instantly and solidly. There will be no opportunity to re-position the panel.

A person using contact cement for the first time would do well to rehearse this placing of the panel on the door at least once before applying the cement coats. Such a rehearsal will give him the

Sewing Machine Cabinet Design Features Time-Saving Storage For Housewife

All the little items that easily become lost in a sewing basket are placed in full view by the finger-tip storage incorporated in the door of this plywood sewing cabinet. Also featured is a large working area.

The woman who likes to sew, sews a lot, and does not want to waste time hunting for spools of thread, bobbins, scissors and the like will appreciate the finger-tip storage of this easily-built plywood sewing cabinet.

All the little items that ordinarily disappear into the bottom of a sewing basket can be stored in full view and within easy reach while operating the sewing machine.

Spools are held by wood dowels mounted in a sloped plywood surface. Lipped shelves hold bobbins, scissors, spare needles and machine accessories.

The machine itself rests in a well that places the sewing surface flush with the countertop during operation. When it is not in use, the machine is stored on a shelf below.

The compact unit doesn't take up a lot of valuable floor space, yet it provides the homemaker with a pleasant place at which to carry out her sewing activities and others that may require a flat space where things can be spread out.

A detailed plan for construction of the sewing cabinet is available for 10 cents from the American Plywood Association, 1119 A St., Tacoma, Wash. 98401.

feel of handling the thin panel and show him how he must hold it to avoid accidental preliminary contact, and also to prevent trapping one or more big air bubbles between the two surfaces. Spring the panel back in a cross-sectional arc and "rolling" it on is one way to insure smooth contact.

Actual positioning of the panel lengthwise is not too critical because the top and bottom will be trimmed after the cementing is completed. Just make sure the panel extends beyond both top and bottom edges of the door. However, the panel must be placed carefully in the side-to-side direction to insure that the wood grain in the panel is parallel to the length of the door and to the adjacent wall paneling.

Although the coated surfaces adhere swiftly and tightly, they should be pressed firmly together for lasting contact. This can be done either by hand or roller, going over every inch of the surface. Most contact cement sets firmly within a half hour.

The next step is to trim all four edges of the panel flush with the door edges. Before starting to trim, cover the door edges with masking tape to minimize any chance of marring the door edges in this operation. The "Eagle-Mates" are so thin they can be easily trimmed with a small fine-toothed saw, sharp knife, or a professional routing machine. If you use a saw, be sure to work from the top surface of the panel. Sawing the long side edges can be done from the bottom, using the door edge as a guide, because the panel will not splinter when sawed longitudinally. You may wish to first rough trim to within about a sixteenth of an inch of the door edges — and then carefully bring the panel edges down flush with the door edges with a plane.

Don't worry about the fact that you have covered up the door knob hole. You can easily knock this out with a ball-peen hammer, cut it with a knife or use a key-hole saw.

All that remains is to reattach the hinges, if they were removed, the door knob — and rehang the door by simply slipping the pins back in place.

This hour's work—at most — will transform a room of mediocre appearances to one with a chic look of professionalism.

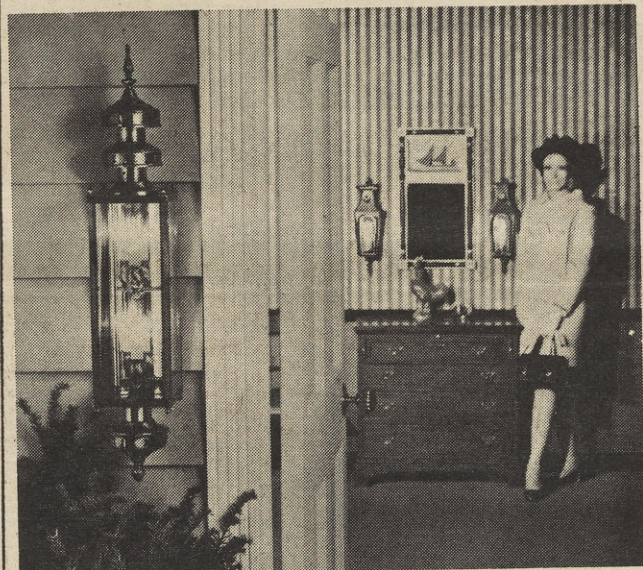

CAREFULLY PRESSING the cement-coated surfaces together. The panels, larger than door, should extend over edges of door to be trimmed later. It is important to line the panel up carefully longitudinally so grain will be parallel to wall paneling.

OUT OF THE WAY AND HANDY, TOO . . . Garden tools can be racked in neat order in an unfinished garage or tool shed by nailing a board across four or more studs. If nailed at an angle the board will hold tools of varying length.

NO HEAVY TANK TO DRAG AROUND, NO RECIRCULATED DUST, NO NOISE. These are the advantages of a built-in vacuum-cleaning system. The homemaker simply plugs a flexible hose into a wall outlet, flicks a switch located there, and proceeds to vacuum. A heavy-duty motor and dust bag are installed in a remote location, away from the living area, such as in the basement or garage. Flexible pipe leads from the bag to the wall outlets in the various rooms. (Photo, courtesy Central Vac. International)

Extend a Bright Welcome!

Nothing sets the mood like lighting. And this is particularly true when planning special holiday entertaining. Your home can be completely changed from dim to cheery by using stylish and effective fixtures.

Offering decorating continuity is also important, by using lighting fixtures that reflect the same style both inside the house and out. Maintaining the right mood is particularly important during holiday seasons such as Christmas and the New Year when much entertaining is done at night. Progress Lighting, with a broad selection of lighting for every occasion, can help even the most inexperienced homemaker to make the right choice. With indoor/outdoor lanterns you offer a cheerful welcome at both the front door and in the foyer or entrance hall beyond. Whether the style of your home is early American English country or French provincial, you can effectively create the right atmosphere with little effort.

Often neglected areas, doorways and hallways are very indicative of the kind of home you have. In a way, they are indicative of the kind of welcome you want to extend to those who visit it. Lighting the way may be the best way to say come in and be of good cheer.

Bow or Bay Windows Add Air of Spaciousness

Is there a room in your house that needs a new decorative highlight, a sense of spaciousness, wide visibility, and lots of sunlight and air? A wood bow or bay window could be the answer.

Possibly the most beautiful window units available, bows (which have a graceful outward curve) and bays (which are straight in the center and angled at each end) have long been popular for living rooms in both traditional and contemporary houses. Now, imaginative homeowners are recognizing their advantages for any room that would benefit from a distinctive window treatment, natural light and a view.

Kitchens, for example, are often shortchanged when it comes to window beauty and visibility. A wide-expanse bow or bay window, readily available at local lumber dealers in pre-assembled stock units of ponderosa pine, becomes a decorative bonus for the room and a boon for the housewife who spends much of her time there and would enjoy a sunny view of the outdoors.

Attics converted into living areas — such as a study, den or guest room — seldom have enough natural light or fresh air. Bows or bays are practical here because they admit maximum sunlight and come with operating units at top or bottom to provide good ventilation. An attic bow or bay also makes an unusually attractive exterior feature for the house.

As focal points for relaxation and entertaining, family and dining rooms are as perfect a place for bows and bays as the living room. These windows open a room to the outdoors with its changing seasonal beauty, and lend an air of spaciousness and charm. To emphasize their Colonial look, bow and bay windows are often used with grille inserts that snap in to give the window a small-pane appearance and snap out for easy window washing.

HOW EASY IS IT TO ADD—OR SUBTRACT A WINDOW?

Both jobs are tricky, so unless you have worked with walls and windows before, hire a carpenter.

He'll anticipate special problems and solve unexpected ones. For example, he'll know what to do if the wall is out of plumb or the trim of the new window doesn't match the old; if he's filling in a window, he'll know how to stagger the joints of your siding or bricks so you can't detect where the window was originally located.

How do you find someone who can do the job? If you've remodeled before, you probably already know someone. Or you could consult a friend. Otherwise, consult a reputable building materials dealer. He is in a position to tell you who does good work.

The present day building practice is to use window and door frames which were assembled at the mill or factory and brought to the job already put together or in knocked down form. Knocked down frames are easy to assemble.

Making up door and window frames on the job is time consuming and it's a job that is difficult to do well without adequate power-driven equipment.

Plywood Planter Boxes Make Gardens Mobile

Some of the best gardens in the country are being grown in boxes these days.

Portable box plantings are becoming increasingly popular because they offer easier maintenance and greater flexibility in organizing a garden.

The three planter boxes described here are made of an Exterior-type (waterproof) plywood trade named Texture 1-11. Since this type of plywood comes with the vertical grooves already cut for a decorative effect, the boxes are simple enough for a gardener to build on a rainy day.

Construction

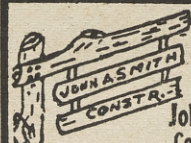

If you don't have a power saw, the boxes can be built with ordinary hand tools. Or, you could have the parts cut out at the lumber yard where you buy the plywood. Drainage holes should be drilled in the bottom panels, and the inside should be finished with an asphalt emulsion.

Treating the plywood with one of the wood preservative chemicals will retard decay. In construction of the boxes, use waterproof glue along the joints.

Remember to place a shallow drip pan under the planter boxes if you move them inside.

You needn't worry about corrosion, since the boxes are all wood; nor about an untimely demise due to coming apart at the seams, since the plywood is completely waterproof.

A plan for the planter box can be obtained for 10 cents from the American Plywood Association, 1119 A St., Tacoma, Wash. 98401. Ask for plan 55-100.

Attractive Brick Patterns For The Patio

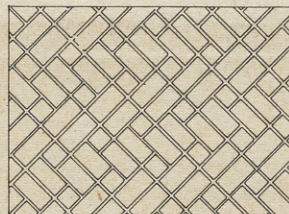

Too often the repertoire of the bricklayer is limited to a few patterns. To help break this unnecessary design barrier in a time of brick renaissance, we have chosen a sampling of patterns that illustrates brick's versatility. Based on classic European pavings, some are over 2,000 years old, but still provide fascinating designs for today's floors or terraces.

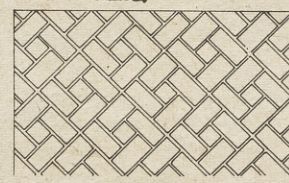

Portuguese herringbone is based on old Roman pattern. Small squares were originally glazed tiles; now half bricks are used.

Dutch parallel works well as an interior floor. Strong lines show up even when partially covered with rugs or furniture.

Spanish multidirectional pattern has an op art quality. Especially interesting when used on a large terrace with enough space for many repeats, design seems to change directions as you walk around.

Roman square developed over 2,000 years ago, is well suited to small hallways, baths, and kitchens because pattern is repeated every 12 inches.

Belgian pinwheel, below, needs a minimum 12-foot-square area to show off design. Costs more to install because of unusual amount of hand-cutting — the true test of a bricklayer's skill.

Test Heating Knowledge

Here are some questions frequently asked by people considering electric heat. You'll find the answers dispell some commonly-held misconceptions and put clean, flameless electric heat at the top of the list for anyone considering installation of a new heating system or changing their present one.

Q. What does electric heat cost?

A. Electric heat costs will vary according to the house and the family living in it. A nationwide survey conducted by the Live Better Electrically Program, however, shows the over 90% of home owners who have converted to electric heat consider electric heat to be a worth-while investment. Forty-five per cent of those surveyed said that their total utility bills, including heating, were the same or less with electric heat than they had been before.

Q. Can a very old house be converted?

A. Any home can be converted to flameless electric comfort conditioning. Large and small, old and new; colonial and split level homes are all candidates for the most modern heat of all.

Q. What about insulation?

A. Insulation is the key to successful electric home heating. A properly insulated home retains more heat in winter and helps keep uncomfortable heat and humidity out in the summer.

Insulation is very easy to add. The proper amount needed can be accurately determined by your electric utility or heating contractor to insure that your heating system will work less hard, run less often.

Q. Is insulation costly?

A. Adequate insulation pays for itself through savings in heating costs — not to mention the unparalleled comfort you enjoy. Most people consider the cost of insulation an investment repaid by lower heating and air conditioning costs.
